MFRSM, (more for the same), a post-punk trio hailing from Tel-Aviv, blends hard-hitting riffs with traditional Mediterranean melodies. With two studio albums under their belt, their latest release "Lie, Lie, Lie" has received praise from music publications worldwide and amassed a significant online following.

The album features raw, emotional lyrics and gritty guitar work that encapsulate the complexities of urban life. This unique perspective is evident in their songs, as they navigate through the themes of identity, love and loss, and the search for connection and meaning in a world that is often chaotic and uncertain.

Since forming in 2015, the band has established a dedicated following through relentless touring across the nation.

Known for their high-energy live performances and uncompromising standards, MFRSM delivers a unique and captivating experience.
